PARNELL MAN ENDS HIS LIFE SATURDAY

W. D. Finley, a paper hanger of Parnell, committed suicide Saturday forenoon, by drinking carbolic acid, which he purchased at a drug store at 11 o'clock. Immediately after purchasing the acid he went up to the Odd Fellows' hall, of which he is a member, and the janitor, and was not seen again until about 1:10 o'clock this afternoon, when he was found dead.

As he did not return to his dinner, his wife became alarmed and spoke to some of the neighbors about his absence from the noonday meal and a search was started. Some one remembered seeing him go to the Odd Fellows' hall, and went there to see if he was engaged in his work of caring for the place, and his body was found with the bottle of acid near him.

The cause for his action is supposed to be on account of sickness in his family, extending over some time.

Mr. Finley was 42 years old and leaves a wife and a daughter.

New Baby at Arkoe.

TO THE VOTERS

Next Tuesday is the day we vote on the bond issue for the new city hall. I wish every voter in the city would go down to the old city hall, and examine the front down stairs, and the south east corner up stairs. Do this SUNDAY and MONDAY, and see the dangerous condition which the building is in.

The Fire driver will take pleasure in showing you the condition the building is in. It is absolutely dangerous to keep our prisoners in, and our team and fire wagon. I know that if the voters knew the dangerous condition which the building is in every one of them would vote for a new City Hall.

TAKE NOTICE

This proposed City Hall is to be built on the present site and no where else under this bond issue.

And my theory is, all work to be done by home people. I cordially invite everybody to examine the old structure, and make up your minds after you have examined the building

WAS GRAFT SOMEWHERE

Thirty-five Dollar Waste Baskets in Postoffice Department Attract Attention of Congressmen.

By VAN CLEVE.
Washington, D. C., May 31.—As stated in a former letter some of the investigations started by the house into the affairs of government as administered by our Republican friends, uninterrupted for a good many years, are going to dig up the remains of some deals in a bad state of preservation.

Among the first of these committees to get to work was the committee on expenditures in the state department, headed by Representative C. W. Hamlin of the Seventh Missouri district. Mr. Hamlin some time ago unearthed a deal that put the state department, when under the administration of Secretary Root, now U. S. Senator from New York, in an unenviable light. This story has already been widely published. It was in connection with the Dominican government, which, like some of the other southern republics, has a revolution regularly every change of the moon.

These troubles were continued and multiplied until the little government was financially embarrassed. In fact, it was bankrupt, and that being the case there was no reason why a revolution should be further continued. It might have been of no particular concern to the United States that this little country was out of money with its affairs hopelessly tangled had it not been for the fact that a bunch of distinguished financiers of New York whose names are familiar to every household in the country had loaned a large amount of money to the Dominican government, and unless matters were straightened out they stood to lose it. They appealed to Washington. The immaculate Roosevelt was then president of the United States and Senator Root, also of New York, was then secretary of state.

The result was that a Baltimore gentleman named Jacob H. Hollander, connected with Johns Hopkins university, was employed by this government to check up the affairs of the Dominican government and help to reorganize its finances and collect its customs duties. He was to receive for his services the sum of $1,000 per month. He managed to put in nearly four years on the job and was paid for this service over $41,000, not by Morgan or Rockefeller or Kuhn, Loeb & Co., but out of the United States treasury. It has been established beyond doubt that the secretary was fully cognizant of the transaction, but so far he has not attempted to explain why this government should pay for collecting the debts due the bankers of New York.

Nor is this all. The eminent professor from Baltimore, as his name would indicate, is a frugal man, and he not only realized the valuable services he was rendering to prominent American citizens, but he also realized the value to the Dominican government of his services in disentangling their financial affairs and he induced that government also to pay him the neat sum of $100,000 in addition to what he was paid out of the United States treasury. This is exhibit No. 1.

Now comes Mr. Hamlin with another spicy morsel for the state department to explain. A few years ago, when Justice Day of the United States supreme court was secretary of state, an artist of Philadelphia named Albert Rosenthal was engaged to paint a portrait of the secretary and was to receive $850 for his services. The portrait was made and was very satisfactory. Col. William H. Michael, now minister to Calcutta, was then chief clerk to the secretary of state. According to the testimony of Mr. Rosenthal, who was on the stand yesterday, a blank voucher was sent to him to be signed before he should be paid. He signed it, returned it and received a check for his $850, and the incident was a closed one as he supposed. He states that to the best of his recollection the check he received was a personal one.

At a later date Rosenthal was engaged to paint another portrait of Secretary Hay for the Portland exposition, with the understanding that after it had served its purpose there it would be accepted and paid for at the state department at the same rate that was paid for the other one. The painting was made and Mr. Rosenthal went to Europe or somewhere, and when he returned he found the picture had been returned to his studio in Philadelphia. He came down to Washington to inquire what the meaning of this change of heart was.

He found a new chief clerk had been installed, a Mr. Denby. Mr. Denby explained that the picture was satisfactory, but that they could not afford to employ Rosenthal to paint any more pictures at the rate he had been charging. The artist was incensed. He said he was ashamed of the low price he had agreed to do the work for, which was only $850. Mr. Denby insisted that the government had paid $2,450, and proved it by the voucher.

An attempt was made to produce this voucher in evidence, but it has disappeared. The disbursing officer of the state department testified that he paid the $2,450 to Colonel Michael, the former chief clerk. Secretary Knox will appeal to Colonel Michael to find out who got the $1,600, the difference between what the artist received and what the government paid. Rosenthal is a good Republican and tried to avoid testifying, but the committee persuaded him that he must stand hitched. This is exhibit No. 2, and Mr. Hamlin states that there are others yet to come.

The committee on expenditures in the postoffice department is going up to see the private offices of Mr. Hitchcock. They have heard a good deal about $35 waste baskets and other similar things in his elaborately furnished office. He has had the office repainted at a cost of only $4,000, so his chief clerk says, and then he has two other rooms in the suite known as the "large brown room" and "the small red room." These were finished in just common mahogany and the cost was much less, hardly commensurate with the dignity of a cabinet officer, especially one who is chairman of a national campaign committee, they think. Any way, the committee thinks it will be worth seeing.

Since the house began its wholesale slaughter of useless employees, it is now announced that the patronage committee in the senate will undertake to revise the system of appointments over there. Uncle Joe Cannon, speaking in defense of the house employees a few days ago, stated that while the membership of the senate was not one-fourth as large as that of the house, the senate had many more employees than the house had ever had, and they are better paid.

But the most successful treasury-tapping proposition that has been pulled off so far is the "monetary commission," the insurance certificate against want issued to "lame duck" senators and representatives. There are ten of these commissioners. The report of the United States treasury shows that they have spent $297,130.40 during the comparatively brief period of the commission's existence. Of this, $19,150.18 was the expense of a trip to Europe. A meeting at Narragansett pier—it takes monetary backing to go there—cost $3,492.72; three sessions in New York cost $995.35; books and a translation of some French documents took $4,266.45; salaries of assistants and clerical force amounted to $14,602.14; salaries of members, $43,750.00, and so on. This was one of Senator Aldrich's pet creations. The commission was to devise and recommend a satisfactory monetary system for this country—or, in other words, to satisfy a popular demand for better banking laws, etc. A bill is before the senate now to abolish the commission, and there won't be much opposition to its dissolution.

COUNCIL MEETING

HELD FRIDAY EVENING AND BUSINESS THAT WAS TRANSACTED.

HULL ON LIBRARY BOARD

Two New Street Lights Ordered In—Members Say City Water Service is Poor.

At the city council meeting Friday evening, several members discussed the water question, and said that if the water company did not furnish better service they were in favor of not using the water, and advertise for a new company to come here. The remarks were made by the members when the matter of hiring an expert engineer to investigate the water plant came up. No action was taken by the board on hiring an expert, and it is thought that the board will not do anything, as the cost of hiring one is too great for the city to stand at the present time.

J. P. Hull of the Tribune was appointed a member of the library board by Mayor Robey to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Curtis Wray, who is now living in Springfield, Mo., being business manager of the Republican of that city. The appointment met with the approval of the council and was confirmed. Mr. Hull will make a good member of the library board.

Two new street lights were ordered placed in the north part of the city. One is to be installed at the corner of Park avenue and Main street.

Monthly reports were presented by the city marshal, the acting police judge, the weighmaster and the collector. Also a large number of warrants were allowed.

A discussion of the sidewalk question was had and the board intends to push this matter to the limit, so that when the year is out there will not be a single board sidewalk in the city.

The annual report of the library board was presented. The report shows that more than 25,000 people have visited the library during the year, that 2,723 readers' cards have been issued, showing that considerably more than half our people are availing themselves of the advantages of the library, and that during the year they have taken from the library to their homes more than 19,000 books and magazines.

The judges that were appointed by the city council for the special election to vote on the bond issue for a new city hall will act for the police judge election to be held on the same day.

Visited Sons and Brothers.

J. R. Pennington of St. Joseph and his daughters, Mrs. C. D. Teegarden of St. Joseph and Mrs. H. H. Mulholland of Oklahoma City, Okla., were in Maryville Friday evening, returning home from a visit with their sons and brothers, George and Charles Pennington, in the Hopkins vicinity.

New Barber Shop in the City.

J. H. Pearce and Richard Strong have opened a new barber shop in the city, in the old Nodaway Commission company room on north Main street. Both men are experienced barbers.

Diamonds are as staple as wheat

More so, in fact. If you took $25 or $50 or $100 out of the bank and bought a diamond with it—it isn't like spending the money on another article, because a diamond will never depreciate in value.

And all the time you wear it, it is earning you recognition, and promoting a feeling of stability among your friends, which is a pretty good thing to have done these commercial days.

Let us see if you and we can't make a deal in diamonds. Just now we can give either a lady or a gentleman some unusual chances to secure this desirable gem at advantageous prices at

It was the fifth suit to be tried of the seventeen suits Mr. Smith brought against insurance companies to collect on the loss he sustained in a fire at Seventh and Broadway, May 30, 1910. He lost $46,000 in the fire. The insurance companies refused to pay. He has won four cases and lost one. Probably all the cases will be tried.

A Charming Woman

Is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But it's hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c at the Orear-Henry Drug company.

Heflin-Cain Nuptials.

Nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock for Miss Anna Cain and Mr. William Earl Heflin by Rev. Fr. Neimann. Miss Anna Dooley presided at the organ, and the bridal party marched up the aisle to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin." At the offertory Miss Anna Collins sang "Ave Maria." After the consecration "Star of the Sea" was sung by the choir.

The bride was dressed in light blue messaline with pearl trimming, with picture hat to match. The bridesmaid, Miss Angela Cain of Council Bluffs, cousin of the bride, wore canary colored silk mull, with picture hat to match. Both bride and bridesmaid carried ivory bound prayer books. Little Dorothy Hunterson of Parnell carried the ring in the heart of a lily. John H. Cain of Maryville was best man.

After receiving congratulations from the large company of relatives and friends assembled at the church, the party went to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cain, where a four-course dinner was served to sixty-five guests.

Mrs. Heflin has taught in the public schools of Nodaway county for the past four years and has made many friends, who wish her well. The groom has grown to manhood in this community, is a prosperous farmer and by his industry and industrious habits has won the confidence of his wide circle of friends.

Those present were Mrs. Henry Cain, Miss Angela Cain, Mrs. Harvey Morris and children and Mr. Sylvia Cain, all of Council Bluffs, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dougherty and family of Dubuque, Ia.; Mr. Tandy Heflin of Coia, Ia.; Rev. Fr. Neimann, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane and son, Charley; Mrs. Mary Costello, Miss Mary Davis, Mrs. Mich Heflin and daughter, Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knobs, Miss Vannie Knobs, Miss Mayne Kane, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sherlock, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Appleby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickey, Messrs. William and Harvey Knobs, Mich Kane, John Cain, all of Maryville; Dr. and Mrs. D. Hunterson and family and Andy Roof of Parnell; Mr. R. M. BOUGHT T. C. & I. TO AVERT CRASH

Paid More for Stock Than It Was Worth, Declares Gary.

IS FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

Head of Steel Corporation Denounces Sherman Anti-Trust Law as Archaic. Views Revealed in Testimony Before Inquiry Committee.

Washington, June 3.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation directorate, told the Stanley steel trust investigating committee that his corporation stood behind J. Pierpont Morgan in averting a disastrous financial upheaval in 1907.

He insisted, challenging the statements of John W. Gates before the committee, that the purchase by the steel corporation of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company at that time was made at the price, more than it was worth, for the express purpose of preventing the crash of the New York banking firm of Moore & Schley.

Mr. Gary related a dramatic story of the momentous events which preceded the absorption of the Tennessee concern. He described in detail how he and Henry C. Frick, at the instance of Mr. Morgan, had revealed the plan of buying the company at a price greater than its value to President Roosevelt and Mr. Root, then secretary of state. He told how he had concluded after their interview with Mr. Roosevelt that any government prosecution of their act would have been an "outrage."

Mr. Gary made many surprising statements during his eight hours' examination but none more startling than his declaration that government control and publicity of corporations in this country must come. He said that through the American Iron and Steel institute, the heads of the steel industry were trying to steer a course between the Sherman anti-trust law, which was characterized as "archaic," on the one hand, and the old-time methods of destructive competition on the other, in order to operate for the public welfare.

TAFT WITHHOLDS SECRET RECORDS

Refuses to Permit House Committee to See Books.

Washington, June 3.—A controversy over the executive's right to withhold confidential papers from a congressional committee was precipitated by the refusal of Secretary of State Knox, on the instruction of President Taft, to place before the house committee on expenditures in the state department books showing the record of the payment for the portrait of former Secretary of State Day.

The committee is seeking to discover what became of the $1,600 balance of the $2,450 voucher drawn for the payment of the portrait. Artist Rosenthal received only $850 for his work and the $1,600 is unaccounted for.

The president held that the $2,450 was paid out of the emergency fund for unforeseen emergencies in the diplomatic and consular service and for extending diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations, which congress had provided need not be accounted for if the president certifies that an item should be paid from this fund.

President Roosevelt had made a notification and President Taft hesitated to go back of that notification.

Furthermore, Secretary Knox explained to the committee it was improper to produce the books because thereby other undisclosed items of expenditure would be revealed. Secretary Knox said he was directed to complete his investigation into what became of the money and to report the facts to the president.

Chairman Hamlin (Mo.) threatened to take the matter to the floor of the house. A colloquy between Hamlin and the secretary finally resulted in the suggestion that the chairman might be allowed personally to inspect the particular record. This course probably will be followed.

MADERO STARTS FOR MEXICO CITY

Insurrecto Leader Will Make Trip
By Way of Eagle Pass.

TRAVELS ON SPECIAL TRAIN.

Will Visit States of Torreon, Zacatecas and Agua Calientes and Attempt to Pacify Disturbances—Greatly Pleased at Prospects.

El Paso, Tex., June 3.—Francisco I. Madero, Jr., left here for Mexico City. Crowds of people thronged the station and voiced their good wishes in hearty cheering as the train pulled out.

An impressive incident of the departure was the farewell between Senor Madero and General Navarro, former federal commander, who surrendered Juarez. When Madero saw the old federal commander in the crowd he ran forward to embrace him. Later General Navarro mounted the train platform and they embraced again, the insurrectos applauding. Madero expressed the hope of seeing Navarro in Mexico City. General Navarro, in turn, expressed thanks for his escape from Juarez.

Going by way of Eagle Pass, Tex., Senor Madero intends, after crossing the border, to travel in a special train guarded by armed insurrectos. He will visit Torreon, Zacatecas and Agua Calientes in an effort to pacify that section of the country. Senor Madero is due to arrive in Mexico City at 10 a. m. next Wednesday. Those selected to accompany him included Raul Madero, his brother, and Francisco, Sr., his father; Colonel Giuseppe Garibaldi and many minor officers, who participated in the revolution.

Madero Pleased at Prospects.

Senor Madero himself was greatly pleased with the prospects of his reaching Mexico City. "It is, of course, the climax of the revolution," he said. "It seems our triumph is completed; we began our fight in the open field, we are marching in peace to the stronghold of those who were once our foes. No one, six months ago, would have believed that so great a change could have come to a country, when the country was divided between bitter enemies. Now I trust all the hatred will be forgotten, for after all it was a hatred merely for a social condition. As Mexicans, we are all brothers. I trust tranquility will spread throughout the land."

Just before the time set for his leaving, Senor Madero heard of the looting of the city of Parral, an important mining center near Jimenez. A band of rebels entered the place and took away $50,000 from the banks there.

Provisional President de la Barra has called a special presidential election for Oct. 1.

Discover Plot to Kill Madero.

Soon after the departure of Madero for Mexico City details were made known of an alleged attempt to dynamite him.

The plot, according to the insurrecto police, was to have been carried out during the halt which Senor Madero attended in Juarez.

Cruz, former jefe politico of the town of Guadalupe, whom Madero deposed, has been locked up in Juarez and placed incommunicado, and insurrecto secret service men have been detailed to make other arrests.

When the plot was discovered, enough dynamite was being carried into the hall room to blow up the entire building. About 500 people, including Senor Madero and his wife, were the principals and spectators of a grand march, when about 11 o'clock a man was stopped at the entrance.

Out of the man's pocket was pulled a large tin can, which was filled with dynamite, and provided with a time fuse. The insurrecto police assert that had the dynamite exploded in the hall room no one would have escaped injury.

Opinion is expressed by the Juarez authorities that the presence of the dynamite at the hall is only part of the elaborate conspiracy formed in Mexico City and other places by a political party opposed to Madero, and that further developments are expected.

Springfield, Mo., June 3.—Following his refusal to give information regarding the cash balances of certain depositors on June 1, 1910, W. B. The order of the board was that he be kept in jail until he was willing to answer questions asked him. The filing of a writ of habeas corpus prevented the order from being carried out. The board adjourned until June 7, and by that time the case will have been tested in court.
